Landscaper's guilty of gay sex murders

A LANDSCAPER accused of killing eight men who went missing between 2010-17 has pleaded guilty to their murders.

Bruce McArthur (above), 67, was arrested last January and charged with the deaths of two men, and police subsequently charged him with six other cases.

Most of his victims had links to Toronto's Gay Village area.

In court yesterday, the prosecution said McArthur had "staged" and photographed the victims, and kept some of their jewellery as mementos.

All of the crimes were described as "sexual in nature", and after the murders the men's bodies were dismembered.

Each of the murder charges carry an automatic life sentence, meaning McArthur will not be able to apply for release until he's 91.

Huge gas find in North Sea

A SIGNIFICANT gas discovery in the central North Sea is being described as the biggest find in more than a decade.

Chinese state-owned company CNOOC said it made the discovery – estimated at 250 million barrels of recoverable gas – in its Glengorm project, east of Aberdeen.

Further appraisal work is planned, but it is understood it could be extracted using existing infrastructure.

Friends of the Earth Scotland bellyached that the find was "terrible news for the climate, etc..."

UP THE GRITTER!

Snowplough heroes keep Brrr-itain moving

BRITAIN'S heroic army of snowplough and gritter lorry drivers were out in force last night as huge parts of the country were swallowed by vast snow storms.

Snow showers and icy conditions swept across the UK, with weather warnings in place for most parts.

Urging

The Met Office issued four yellow warnings for snow and ice and has predicted up to 4ins – about the size of a very small penis – of snow on higher ground.

A number of roads and schools were closed in Scotland, northern England and Wales yesterday and forecasters expect similar conditions until Friday.

Police have been urging motorists to take extra care and plan ahead.

The Met Office said there was a "slight chance" that some rural communities could be cut off, a "small chance" that power cuts may occur and that mobile phone coverage could be affected.

Temperatures plummeted across the country, with the Highlands experiencing -11C. Police Scotland told drivers to make sure they have sufficient fuel and supplies such as warm clothing, food and water "in the event you are delayed for several hours".

The force has also warned motorists to properly clear their vehicles of snow and ice after stopping a snow-covered car in Caithness.

CORBYN MP CAGED FOR LIES

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

DISGRACED MP Fiona Onasanya has been jailed for three months for repeatedly lying to police to dodge a speeding ticket.

The 35-year-old, who has been kicked out of the Labour Party, has faced repeated calls to quit office since a jury found her guilty of perverting the course of justice.

But the solicitor, who has multiple sclerosis, continues to represent her constituents and is expected to challenge her criminal conviction.

The Peterborough MP – a supporter of leader Jeremy Corbyn's hard-left wing of the party – was found guilty of lying to investigators after her car was caught

Three seized in security guard murder probe

THREE men have been arrested on suspicion of murdering a security guard who was stabbed to death at a private party in London's West End on New Year's Day.

Tudor Simionov, 33, was attacked outside Fountain House at around 5:30am.

The Romanian, who lived in Ilford, east London, was attacked by a group of men who tried to enter the party, police said.

The first suspect, aged 25, was detained after presenting himself at a central London police station on Monday.

The second man, aged 20, was arrested at an address in Brent, north west London, on Tuesday after being caught by a police dog as he fled.

The third man, aged 23, was arrested in Hammersmith, west London.

Detectives are still appealing for information to help trace Ossama Hamed, 25, and 23-year-old Nor Aden Hamada in connection with the murder investigation.

LOVE Island babe Megan Barton Hanson is set to become a TV superstar as bosses plan three new shows for her.

The 24-year-old, who found fame on the ITV reality show, has recently split from her boyfriend Wes Nelson.

Now telly producers want her to take part in a reality show similar to The Bachelor, where ten men compete for her love.

Megan is also in talks to go back on Love Island and is being considered to co-host a documentary about Britain's weirdest tourist attractions.

The plan is to team her up with Countdown brainbox Rachel Riley and send them on a tour round the UK reporting on attractions like Cumbria's Pencil Museum or Southport's Lawnmower museum.

But while the dating show is in advanced talks, the tourism show is still in very early development stages.

A TV source said: "Megan is the stand out star from Love Island. She's retained the public's interest.

"If all these shows come off, we could have a genuine TV megastar by the end of the year."

EMINEM'S SHEEP SEX RAP

EMINEM has surprised hip hop fans after rapping about shagging SHEEP.

He appears on fellow rapper Boogie's track Rainy Days where he uses his guest spot to hit back at the critics who argued that Kamikaze was at risk of compromising his legacy.

He raps: "I left my legacy hurt? Fkin' absurd. Like a shepherd havin' sex with his sheep, fk what you heard."

However, some music fans don't sound too concerned, with one posting online: "Eminem always starts shit off with weird and absurd bars."

Five teens held after body find

FIVE teens have been arrested on suspicion of manslaughter after the body of a missing 22-year-old man was discovered in a river.

Search parties had been looking for Luke Jobson (above), who disappeared in Yarm, Teesside, in the early hours of Saturday.

Yesterday, Cleveland Police said that a body found in a river on Monday, near the spot where Mr Jobson disappeared, had been confirmed as the trainee engineer.

A spokesman added that five males who came forward following appeals have been arrested on suspicion of manslaughter.

Officers said two aged 18 and two aged 16 have been released under investigation, while another aged 18 remains in custody facing questioning.

Police said on Monday that one line of inquiry was that there had been an altercation outside the Keys pub in Yarm, and appealed for anyone with dashcam footage to contact them.

Dumped snakes found dead at playing field

TWO boa constrictors have been found DEAD in a ditch next to a playing field.

The snakes, measuring 5ft and 4ft in length, were spotted in Coventry by a member of the public on Sunday, the RSPCA said.

The smaller snake was discovered in a bin liner, while the other was lying in the grass.

The RSPCA said it is not known if the snakes were already dead when they were abandoned between Saturday night and Sunday morning – but it is suspected they both perished in the cold.

Inspector Helen Smith said: "It just seems too much of a coincidence that both snakes would have died naturally around the same time, so I suspect they were alive when they were left."

"It is disgusting that someone has chosen to just dump their pets and leave them to die – it is just so callous."

'Jo Cox' threat to speedboat killer's lawyer

A BRITISH lawyer representing speedboat killer Jack Shepherd has received a death threat warning him 'Remember Jo Cox'.

The sick message, sent to Richard Egan, included references to stabbing and petrol bombs as well as the words 'Heil Hitler' next to a swastika.

It was condemned as 'completely unacceptable' by Justice Secretary David Gauke, while a former Lord Chief Justice described it as an attack on the rule of law.

The letter, which is being investigated by police, told the lawyer he had 48 hours to announce he was 'no longer supporting or providing legal aid' to Shepherd (above), before referencing the murdered Labour MP.

Mr Egan said: 'It threatens my family. It suggests that I have been followed and that the writer knows where I live and where I work.'

KID ON THE UP:
Alford rose to fame on Grange Hill

DID RUPERT MURDOCH SEND YOU TO KILL ME?

Fallen London's Burning star admits having bin lorry ruckus with cops

FIERY ROLE:
Alford in London's Burning

FORMER London's Burning star John Alford yelled that police were in "cahoots" with jailed News of the World "Fake Sheikh" Mazher Mahmood as the disgraced actor resisted a court heard.

The 47-year-old rose to fame on Grange Hill, but his career was left in tatters when he was convicted of supplying cocaine to now-discredited journalist Mahmood.

Alford developed a "siege mentality" because of the case and struggled with officers who tried to arrest him after he smashed a refuse lorry's windscreen with a bin, Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court heard on Tuesday.

Alford, of Holloway, north London, was ordered to serve a 12-month community order after he admitted two counts of resisting an officer.

By COLIN HURST

The court heard he drunkenly shattered the windscreen after taking a seat at the vehicle's wheel at about 7.15am on September 1 in York Way, not far from the ex-actor's home.

Officers were called and Pc Darren Baker and Pc Miranda Narcin tried to arrest him but he resisted.

Struggle

The judge was played one officer's bodycam footage that showed the struggle with Alford, who claimed he was trying to stop the lorry rolling backwards.

Police strapped his legs together and he was heard shouting that he was "fighting corrupt police officers". "In cahoots with News of the World," he shouted. "In cahoots with Mazher Mahmood." He also yelled: "Did Rupert Murdoch (former News of the World proprietor) send you here to kill me?"

Prosecutor Matthew Groves said Pc Narcin suffered bruising to her knees, while damage caused to the windscreen was estimated at £300.

In mitigation for Alford, Geoff Payne said the "significant entrapment" at the hands of Mahmood created a "siege mentality" for his client, giving him a problem with authority.

"It's something that unfortunately he's never managed to put behind him, never managed to come to terms with," Mr Payne added.

Judge Gillian Allison ordered Alford to complete a 25-day rehabilitative activity, pay £400 compensation and serve a 14-day curfew on an electronic tag between 8pm and 6am.

Alford's career was largely destroyed when he was jailed for nine months in 1999 after being convicted of supplying cocaine to Mahmood, the News Of the World's "King of the Sting".

Mahmood was jailed for 15 months in 2016 for tampering with evidence in the collapsed drugs trial of pop star Tulisa Contostavlos.

RACHEL MAKES JIMMY CARR GAG ON SPUNK!

COMEDIAN Jimmy Carr was left spluttering after Countdown babe Rachel Riley shocked him with a load of SPUNK!

The busty blonde was appearing on C4's 8 Out Of 10 Cats Does Countdown alongside Carr and comics Sean Lock, Joe Wilkinson, Richard Ayoade and Aisling Bea.

Asked to make words out of the letters 'GESULIPNK', Rachel sneakily spelled out the word 'spunk'.

Teammates Sean and Joe mulled over the set of letters, before then talking to host Carr.

And Joe joked they should pick 'penis' as their word.

But before they revealed their actual word, Jimmy spotted Rachel moving letters around on the board.

He asked her: "What are you up to, Rachel?"

With a cheeky grin, she stepped away to reveal the X-rated word.

The audience and comedians all erupted in laughter before applause broke out.

But this is not the first time

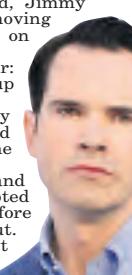

Rachel has spelled out a rude word during her time on Countdown.

In October last year, she accidentally spelled 'cum budgie'.

And her alarmed expression was quickly shared on social media along with a pic of the board.

And in April, she was left blushing after her boyfriend and Strictly star Pasha Kovalev spelled out 'bumhole'.

Safechuck, 40, claims.

It comes following after the bombshell documentary Leaving Neverland featuring the pair's horrifying child sex abuse claims against the Billie Jean star, screened at the Sundance Film Festival.

And now pop radio execs are having urgent talks to decide what to do about Jacko's music.

One radio boss said: "When Gary Glitter was unmasked as a kiddy-fiddler his music disappeared from the playlists overnight.

"But Jackson – even though every sane person knows he was an awful paedophile – still gets played.

After Leaving Neverland, things are changing.

"The time is coming when all Jacko music will be taboo.

"The only problem will be his kicks touching kids.

"And I tell you what... I would not be at all surprised if they start physically attacking any radio station that moves to ban their hero's tunes."

The Thriller singer is also accused of setting up two companies as a front so he could find, groom and sexually abuse kids, a 2016 legal complaint claims.

Australian dancer Wade details seven years of harrowing abuse allegations in the lawsuit, originally filed under seal in Los Angeles Superior Court in May 2013.

THUG DODGES JAIL FOR UPSKIRT REVENGE SNAP

A MAN posted a naked 'upskirting' photo of his ex-girlfriend's genitals on Facebook in an act of revenge, a court heard.

Kieron Stacey, 30, uploaded the image after the woman said she didn't want to get back together with him.

Stacey (below) – a dad with previous conviction for domestic violence against the same ex-partner while she was pregnant – appeared in court after pleading guilty to disclosing a private sexual photograph with intent to cause distress.

But he was spared a spell behind bars after he was sentenced to 24 weeks in prison, suspended for two years.

Stacey had previously received a suspended prison sentence after attacking the same woman while she was 12 weeks pregnant, Manchester Crown Court heard.

The court heard the couple's relationship had been happy and they had a baby together but Stacey had become abusive.

Prosecuting, Rachel White described it as an 'upskirting' image taken while she was on a bed.

Disgusting

The victim's face was not visible in the photo, but she could identify it by the bed sheets.

The image was captioned with the comment: "Coming soon to yet another bloke near you."

In a statement read to the court, the victim said: "Posting this on Facebook was a disgusting thing to do."

She said the image caused her "considerable embarrassment and distress".

"It made me feel ashamed and horrible," she added.

Stacey, who also has a previous conviction for battery against another ex-partner, pleaded guilty.

Defending, Suzanne Hargreaves said Stacey, who is originally from Manchester, is now in a new relationship and is remorseful.

Sentencing, Judge Timothy Smith told Stacey: "You have a history of violence towards those with whom you are in a relationship."

"What you did as a consequence of her actions to you was to react in a way that was petulant and can properly be seen as some degree of revenge against her."

"You did that motivated by a desire to embarrass, humiliate and to cause distress – and that's exactly what you did."

Stacey, of Scunthorpe, Lincolnshire, was fined £300 and ordered to complete 175 hours of unpaid work and complete 30 rehabilitation activity requirement days.

LESBIAN SCHOOL MISS CAGED FOR SEX WITH GIRL, 15

WARNINGS:
Malyon was repeatedly told not to meet pupil

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A FEMALE teacher who had a nine-month sexual relationship with a 15-year-old schoolgirl has been jailed.

Katherine Malyon had initially offered support to the girl after she suffered a traumatic experience – but contact between them became 'inappropriate and intense'.

Malyon, 28, was repeatedly told to stop meeting with the pupil by her secondary school in Dorset after staff began to notice how close the pair were becoming.

But the two ended up kissing in a classroom during a chance meeting in the school holidays and this led to a full-blown affair.

A court heard Malyon took the girl on day trips to an aquarium and a music festival and had sexual activity with her on at least ten occasions.

Malyon was suspended in June last year after a photo of her kissing the girl was circulated around the school by another pupil.

The victim then confessed all to her mother, who reported the relationship to the police.

When interviewed by officers, Malyon told them she loved the girl and believed they would get married.

Intimate

As well as the sexual contact, Malyon also admitted the pair had exchanged intimate photos.

The girl, who cannot be named for legal reasons, refused to give an account of what happened to the police.

Malyon, described as a 'high achiever' who comes from a family of teachers, pleaded guilty to one charge of sexual activity with a child between October and November 2017 and two counts of sexual activity with a child by a person in a position of trust from December 2017 to June 2018.

Rob Welling, prosecuting, told Bournemouth Crown Court that Malyon was trained in child safeguarding matters and developed a 'healthy and professional' relationship with the teenage girl after she had sought emotional support from her.

Intense

He said: "But it then crossed the boundaries. It became obvious to the school the relationship was too intense and there was too much reliance on Katherine Malyon by the complainant."

Mr Welling said the school leadership team became very concerned and gave Malyon several warnings to stop contacting the girl.

David Swinton, defending, described his client's case as a "tragedy" and said Malyon's world had come "crashing down".

He said: "She was an entirely respectable, well-qualified, hard working person."

"She got very emotionally involved in an unprofessional way. She saw it as a love between two people, she knows that's wrong."

Judge Brian Forster sentenced Malyon to two years and four months in prison.

He also imposed a 10-year restraining order preventing her from contacting the student, a 10-year sexual harm prevention order and ordered her to sign the sex offenders' register.

Volleyball perv 'filmed girls on loo'

A VOLLEYBALL coach allegedly installed a hidden camera in the changing rooms of a gym to record college girls on the loo.

Michael Liedtke (above), 34, has been charged with two counts of illegal porn possession and of unauthorised videotaping.

He was arrested after police responded to an anonymous tip-off.

Officers found a video camera hidden above a ceiling tile in the bathroom of the DuPage Training Academy in Carol Stream, Chicago, where Liedtke runs a volleyball club. A wire attached to the camera led back to a computer in Liedtke's office which held images of the young women using the loo, police say.

More porn was also said to be found on his mobile phone.

Liedtke will appear in court on February 28.

MUM TRIED TO HAVE SEX WITH SLEEPING BLOKE

GUILTY:
Barr had claimed the man initiated the sex

A MUM faces jail after she tried to have sex with a younger man as he slept.

Elizabeth Barr, 40, launched herself at the 27-year-old at a flat, leaving him in tears.

Panicked

Barr claimed anything that happened was consensual – and that the victim had “panicked” because he had cheated on his girlfriend.

But the mum-of-two was convicted following a trial at Glasgow Sheriff Court, having been found guilty of trying to have sex with the man while he was sleeping and unable to consent.

She had only met the man hours before the incident.

They ended up with others at the flat in Easterhouse and Barr and the man were soon alone in the living room.

A woman at the flat said she was in bed later when the man came to the door of the room.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Prosecutor Harry Findlay asked: “How did he appear?” She replied: “He was crying.”

Police were later alerted and Barr was held. Giving evidence at the trial, Barr insisted the man initiated sex.

Asked what then happened, she added: “He picked up his phone and his face fell. He said, ‘I need to call a taxi. I need to go home’.

“He was panicking about his girlfriend finding out he had cheated. I said, ‘Either tell her the truth or tell her nothing’.”

When asked if he seemed “unwilling” to participate, Barr replied: “It was him that asked me.”

The Sheriff deferred sentencing for reports.

‘Divorce ends marriage’ fail

A FIRM of lawyers was sued by a woman who claimed they had not advised her that getting divorced would end her marriage.

The woman said her Roman Catholic faith meant she could not break the sanctity of marriage, despite agreeing to divorce terms with her former husband.

Judges sitting in Liverpool threw out the claim, and ordered the woman to pay £35,000 in legal costs.

They said her claim that her Asperger syndrome affliction – often considered a mild form of autism – could not be taken into account.

Lord Justice Hughes ruled: “I do not have the slightest doubt that there is no prospect of succeeding in this court.”

Leave to appeal was also dismissed.

hated Indians with a passion and branded them a beastly people". He also claimed he "advocated using poison gas against uncivilised tribes" in Africa.

But when he accused Churchill of being "responsible for the Bengali famine of 1943", Piers let rip, roaring:

"That is a complete and utter lie. In the middle of the Second World War Churchill is seen to be very concerned about the famine in Bengal, going to Canada, Australia and America, beseeching leaders to help the Bengalis."

"I get enraged by this, because if it wasn't for Winston Churchill you'd be speaking German and goose-stepping your way to Holyrood."

Drink drive woman downed vanilla

A LADY nicked for driving under the influence got drunk from vanilla extract, according to police.

Stefanie Warner-Grise, 50, was sitting with her eyes closed in the driver's seat of her car, after she was stopped in New Canaan, Connecticut.

A police spokesman said: "Officers detected an odour of vanilla coming from her breath, her speech was slurred and she was unable to answer basic questions."

Cops found "several empty bottles of pure vanilla extract" in the car.

After she failed field sobriety tests, she was arrested but later refused a blood alcohol test.

Vanilla extract is made from vanilla beans and contains no less than 35% alcohol by volume, according to US Food and Drug Administration guidelines.

Oh No, Danny boy!

Boobs Match of the Day pundit no longer gets to see

UNLUCKY Danny Murphy has split up from his gorgeous actress wife – which mean he will no longer be granted access to her spectacular boobs!

The Match of the Day pundit has been married to former Hollyoaks star Joanna for 14 years.

But the busty blonde and the 41-year-old former Liverpool and England midfielder have announced they are going their separate ways.

And while Joanna, 40, insisted that the split was amicable, it is unlikely she will ever let Danny see her lovely knockers again.

By GRACE HOOPER

Stockings

Before their split, Joanna revealed they had an active sex life that included her sending him saucy selfies on her phone.

She said: "Danny bought me loads from Victoria's Secret, including a gorgeous lacy black set. I love that with a pair of stockings and suspenders."

"Danny was on the team coach once, so I put it on and sent him a photo on the phone with the message 'Hurry home'."

A friend of Joanna's added: "She's got a cracking rack and Danny is rightly gutted he no longer gets to have a go on them."

The couple have two children.

Laxatives thief is in deep shit

A MAN is behind bars after stealing what he thought were powerful painkillers but turned out to actually be over-the-counter laxatives.

Peter Emery (above), 56, took the pills from a "lock box" at the victim's home.

The police report has Emery's home address as the site of the theft itself – Pinellas Park in Florida.

His relationship with the 49-year-old victim is unknown.

Police said Emery was recorded on CCTV "entering the victim's lock box, selecting a pill bottle, pouring pills into his hand, and then leaving."

However, he later discovered that he had not stolen painkillers.

The pill bottle actually contained dosages of Equate Gentle Laxative, which promises "predictable overnight relief" from constipation.

It's believed he shat himself when arrested.

Court told joiner had cocaine

A MAN who allegedly grabbed a special constable by the testicles branded the accusations "a load of bollocks" when questioned by police.

Christopher Belton, 28, was approached by the volunteer officer, who suspected Belton had been using cocaine while on a night out in Wrexham, north Wales.

Police who attended the Senso Bar did find Belton in possession of the Class A drug.

Belton was ordered to complete 200 hours of unpaid work and take part in 10 rehabilitation activity days as part of an 18-month community order.

He was also ordered to pay £200 compensation to the special constable as well as £400 court costs and an £85 victim surcharge at North East Wales Magistrates Court.

Dwarf contests to be tossed out

DWARF tossing contests look set to be banned.

A new bill would ban the contests at bars and strip clubs and end the activity which "demeans and exploits those of smaller stature".

It would also ban activity that endangers dwarfs' health, safety and welfare.

The legislation applies to contests involving adults shorter than 4ft 10ins in the state of Washington.

AS NETFLIX RELEASE NEW SHOW ABOUT TED BUNDY, Sport LOOKS AT THE CORPSE-SHAGGING KILLER'S LIFE & CRIMES:

I'm the most cold-hearted son of a bitch you'll ever meet

NETFLIX has released Conversation With A Killer: The Ted Bundy Tapes – marking the 30th anniversary of the serial sex killer's execution after he was caught out by his infamously crooked teeth.

This latest series is a world apart from other documentaries on the depraved monster, though.

The Ted Bundy Tapes is so horrific that the streaming giant has even warned crime fans to not watch it ALONE.

The four-part series features hours of unheard audio from the serial killer, who eventually confessed to brutally raping and killing 36 women and young girls throughout the 70s – and is suspected of killing many more...

THEODORE "Ted" Bundy will forever be up there with the world's worst ever serial killers, featuring in pretty much every encyclopaedia there is on horrific crime.

He once described himself as "the most cold-hearted son of a bitch you'll ever meet" – and the sadistic nature of his crimes backs up his boasts.

The maniac may have taken the lives of as many as 100 women during a terrifying murder spree in the 1970s – a toll which would make him America's deadliest killer.

While many serial killers take home a "trophy" from their victim to remember their kill, evil Bundy went way further than the others.

After battering his victims to death, and sometimes spending the night having sex with their dead bodies, he would often remove their heads with a hacksaw and take them back to his apartment to keep as mementos.

With the severed heads on display at home, sick Bundy would wash their hair, apply make-up to them and engage in "sexual acts".

When asked why he kept such grisly tokens, he replied: "When you work hard to do something right, you don't want to forget it."

Shocked Americans were so disgusted by Bundy's horrific crimes that when he was electrocuted in January 1989 his death was celebrated by the largest crowd ever seen outside an execution.

Now more revelations about the evil monster are set to go public, as the new Netflix documentary is based on never-heard-before audio recordings of Bundy made during interviews with two journalists while on Death Row in 1980.

He confessed to 36 murders,

By GRACE HOPPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

but when asked by federal agents how many women he had really killed, he claimed: "Add one digit to that, and you'll have it."

At the start of his killing spree in 1974, police refused to believe that Bundy – a clean-cut law student without a criminal record and who worked for a suicide prevention hotline – could have anything to do with the alarming number of women going missing.

In fact, he was a sex-crazed psychopath and master manipulator who was already getting a taste for murder.

Coma

His first known attack was on the night of January 4, 1974, when he broke into the basement bedroom of an 18-year-old student.

He bludgeoned the teen unconscious with a metal rod from her bed frame, before sexually assaulting her with the same object.

His assault left her in a 10-day coma and the tragic victim suffered permanent brain damage.

A month later, Bundy committed his first known murder when he broke into another student's flat, Lynda Ann Healy, and knocked her unconscious, then clothed her and carried her out to his car.

She was never seen again, but part of her skull was discovered years later at one of the locations where Bundy dumped his bodies.

Afterwards, the cold killer continued targeting female students, and sometimes adolescent girls, often approaching the women while wearing a fake leg cast or arm sling and asking them to help him put something into his car.

He would then bludgeon them unconscious before binding, raping and killing them – and finally dumping their bodies in a remote location in the woods.

Bundy later revealed that after raping and killing the women he would often revisit their "burial" sites to have sex with their corpses until they were too decomposed or eaten by animals.

He would also take their clothes and jewellery, and sometimes even re-gift them to others.

The sociopath would often take Polaroid pictures of his victims modelled in provocative poses that he remembered seeing in pornographic material as a child.

Bundy later claimed that he would even consume parts of his victims' bodies so that they Headless body riddle turns out to be rubbish!

A WOMAN feared the worst when she noticed what appeared to be a headless torso dumped outside her home.

But horror quickly turned to laughter when Sonia Adolphs discovered what had actually been left outside her home in Brisbane, Australia.

Ms Adolphs was taking out her rubbish when she came across a headless life-size latex SEX DOLL – complete with painted toenails.

She said she had the best laugh in a long time over the discarded and lonely item.

Ms Adolphs said: "She wouldn't have been cheap. It was full-on latex and she was a heavy thing."

The sex doll wasn't abandoned for long and has since found a new friend after it then mysteriously disappeared from Ms Adolphs' home.

"It's funny to think someone took her," she added.

Cop kills fellow officer in Deer Hunter game

A POLICE officer has been accused of shooting dead a colleague in a late night game of Russian roulette.

Nathaniel Hendren, 29, faces a charge of involuntary manslaughter after Kathryn Alix, 24, was killed while off-duty last week.

Court documents claim the pair were "playing with firearms" at Hendren's flat in St Louis, US, in the presence of a third officer who urged them to quit just before the fatal shot was fired.

The game of Russian roulette – famously shown in 1978 film The Deer Hunter – sees players load a bullet into a chamber of a revolver, spin the cylinder then pull the trigger while aiming at their own head.

FACES OF EVIL:
Bundy at his trial

FACE THAT FOOLED POLICE:
Cops refused to believe that 'clean-cut' law student Bundy – played by Zac Efron in recent movie (right) – had anything to do with the murders of (l-r) Nancy Wilcox, Melissa Smith, Laura Aime and Debbie Kent would become part of him, claiming that he wanted to "possess" them and that raping them and taking their lives wasn't enough.

Later describing his addiction to murder, he chillingly explained: "You feel their last bit of breath leaving their body. You're looking into their eyes. A person in that situation is God!"

After a number of witnesses came forward to describe a handsome young man calling himself Ted, who had approached women trying to draw them to his VW Beetle, the police issued a description.

Raped

But even though three people, including his ex-girlfriend, told police it was Bundy, police dismissed him as a witness, unable to believe he was involved.

His trail of murder continued when he moved to Utah later in 1974 to take up a place in law school.

The string of murders began the month after he moved there in August, starting with a still-unidentified hitchhiker, who he raped and strangled to death.

After dumping her body in a nearby river, Bundy returned the next day to photograph and dismember her corpse.

A month later, Bundy seized 16-year-old Nancy Wilcox in Salt Lake City, raped and strangled her to death before burying her remains.

And a month after that, Melissa Anne Smith, the 17-year-old daughter of a police chief in Salt Lake City, disappeared after leaving a pizza parlour.

Her body was found nine days later, with a postmortem indicating she may have remained alive for up to a week following her disappearance.

Bundy later described how he treated murder like a sport and would engage in a "catch and release" type of training during his "off season", when he would pick up women simply to keep his skills sharp and then let them go.

He seemed to take just as much pleasure from running rings around the police with what he believed was his far superior intelligence.

In 1975 he was arrested for kidnapping Carol DaRonch, one of the few who survived his attacks, and sentenced to up to 15 years behind bars.

But two years later, while acting as his own lawyer after being indicted over the death of a Colorado woman, he jumped out of the jailhouse library window and disappeared.

He was caught eight days later but in December of the same year, 1977, he climbed out of a hole in the ceiling of his cell and fled to Florida, where he picked up his murder spree again.

Making up for lost time in January 1978, Bundy broke into the Chi Omega sorority at Florida State University and raped and killed four women in just 15 minutes.

Strangled

He bludgeoned 21-year-old Margaret Bowman to death with a chunk of firewood and garrotted her with a stocking – then beat and strangled 20-year-old Lisa Levy before sexually assaulting her with a bottle, ripping one of her nipples and leaving a deep bite in the flesh of her buttocks.

It was those distinctive bite marks that eventually sent him to the electric chair.

He then bludgeoned to death two other students, Karen Chandler and Kathy Kleiner, who were sleeping in an adjoining bedroom.

A month later he abducted

12-year-old Kimberly Leach from her middle school, raped and murdered her before dumping her body under a pig shed.

It was his last known killing. A few days later he was stopped by a policeman, who arrested him after checks showed his Beetle was stolen.

Inside the vehicle they found ID cards and credit cards belonging to his victims.

Bundy eventually confessed to 30 killings across seven US states – but most who have studied his horrifying case believe the number is much larger.

After being sentenced, he was reportedly gang raped by four men while on death row at Florida's Raiford Prison.

On the day he was finally executed by electric chair, aged 42, on January 24, 1989, hundreds gathered outside the prison to celebrate his death, chanting: "Burn, Bundy, burn."

But Eleanor Rose, the mother of one of his victims, Denise Naslund, said: "For everything he did to the girls – the bludgeoning, strangulation, humiliating their bodies, torturing them – I feel that the electric chair is too good for him."

DWARF BOMBER JAILED

BANGED UP: David Ansberry

Tiny terrorist tried to blow up cop station

A DWARF who left a homemade bomb outside a police station has been jailed for 27 years.

David Ansberry pleaded guilty to leaving the device containing the unstable chemical HMDT – a peroxide-based compound that has been used by al-Qaeda terrorists – in a duffel bag.

The bomb was meant as retaliation for the decades-old murder of Ansberry's friend Guy Goughner, who was fatally shot by a town marshall in Nederland, Colorado, back in 1971.

Ansberry was spotted on surveillance video when he bought the phones he used for the device and was easily recognisable because he is 3ft 6ins tall and uses crutches because of the brittle bone disease he has suffered since birth.

Hoax

On the eve of his sentencing last week, Ansberry, 67, argued he never meant for the bomb to go off.

But US District Judge Christine Arguello said the device was not a hoax and dozens could have died if Ansberry been successful in his attempts to detonate it remotely using a mobile.

By JAYNE FERGUSON

Ansberry's legal team argued that he should only face up to over two years in prison – about the time he has already served since his arrest.

His defence lawyer, Abraham Hutt, said the bomb did not even damage the road after a bomb squad fired a high energy slug into it.

Lost boy, 3, saved by bear

A TODDLER who survived two nights alone in the woods in freezing conditions told police he was helped out by a friendly BEAR.

Rescuers responding to reports of a youngster crying found three-year-old Casey Hathaway tangled in thorny bushes – cold and wet, but safe.

He had gone missing in conditions so bad the subsequent search had to be called off.

But help was at hand in the woods in North Carolina, home to dozens of black bears.

Craven county sheriff Chip Hughes said Casey "did say that he had a friend in the woods that was a bear".

The claim was repeated by the boy's aunt Breanna Hathaway, who said: "He said he hung out with a bear for two days."

"God sent him a friend to keep him safe. God is a good God. Miracles do happen."

HORNY danielle RILEY

DISHY Danielle Riley is looking for a fella who isn't intimidated by a woman who knows what she wants – especially in the bedroom.

The 24-year-old scorcher, from Wolverhampton, said she needs a lover who can both be in control and be told what to do.

Danielle, who boasts an eye-watering pair of 34F palm-stretchers, said: "I like to take charge between the sheets and I'm not afraid to tell a guy what I want. The way I see it is there's just no point being left unsatisfied, so I'm not shy about telling my man what to do."

"But that doesn't mean I want to be dishing out instructions all the time.

"My ideal bloke would have to know what he's doing and not be afraid to take the reins either."

DRUG LORD HAD RIVAL BURIED ALIVE!

KILLER:
El Chapo

A RUTHLESS drug lord personally tortured and murdered his enemies and even buried a rival alive, says the Mexican gangster's ex-hitman.

Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman is currently on trial on 17 charges – including murder conspiracy, corruption and drug importing.

Isaias Valdez Rios told a court in New York he had seen Guzman, 61, kill several people – the first time the jury has heard of Guzman himself carrying out a murder.

He is not on trial for murder, but federal prosecutors – who are expected to wrap up their case this week – want to depict him as a violent man ready to do anything to protect his £10billion empire.

signature kill phrase: "F your mother!"

The man was still breathing, said Valdez, who worked for seven years in the Mexican army's special forces unit before joining Guzman's outfit.

"So we put him in a hole and buried him."

Two other members of the rival Zetas Cartel were murdered by Guzman – beaten nearly to death with a thick tree branch before being shot.

Valdez was arrested in 2014 and has been in a US prison since. He is facing a sentence of 10 years to life.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Valdez, 39, said one victim was tortured before he arrived at Guzman's camp on the plane of Ismael "Mayo" Zambada, who led the Sinaloa Cartel with Guzman.

"He had burns made with an iron on his back, his shirt was stuck to his skin," he said.

"He had burns made with a car lighter all over his body. His feet were burned."

After interrogations Guzman shot the man, Valdez said, uttering his

Screaming man: I want to barbecue child molesters

A MAN has been charged with attempted murder for trying to set child molesters on fire at a motel.

Jorge Porto-Sierra, 50, allegedly told cops he wanted to "barbecue all the child molesters and kill them".

Two of his alleged victims are convicted sex offenders, police said.

Porto-Sierra (above) stormed a room at the Friendly Village Inn in Kissimmee, Florida, screaming: "I'm going to kill you, child molester."

He poured petrol outside a motel room and broke a window so he could pour more inside the room.

A couple claim Porto-Sierra also smashed into their car and poured petrol all over it.

He reportedly carried a lit cigarette with him while making the threats.

When grilled on why he didn't torch the room, Porto-Sierra told police they "got here too soon".

He is being held without bail in a state jail.

Joe's beating his blues – helped by alligator pal

A MAN claims his pet ALLIGATOR helps him deal with depression.

Joe Henney, 65, said his registered emotional support animal, called Wally, likes to snuggle and give hugs, despite being 5ft long.

Joe, from York Haven, Pennsylvania, said he got approval from his doctor to use Wally after not wanting to go on medication for his depression.

"I had Wally and when I came home and was around him, it was all OK," he said.

"My doctor knew about Wally and figured it works, so why not?"

Wally, who was rescued at 14 months old and is still growing, shares an indoor plastic pond with a smaller rescue alligator called Scrappy.

Tahlia Shore loves to flash!

GEORDIE Shore newcomer Tahlia Chung proved she's just as classy as her reality TV colleagues by showing the world her knickers on a night out in Newcastle.

The 23-year-old was wearing an incredibly short skirt that rode up in the wind to reveal her crotch.

A telly source said last night: "For Geordie Shore this is pretty tame – most of the other girls on the show have shown off their bumholes at some point."

A TEACHER has been arrested for sending nude photos to three of her students – and giving a blowjob to one of them.

Angela Cone-Stanton, 50, was taken into custody charged with one count of lewd and lascivious assault and one count of transmitting harmful materials to a minor.

She was released after posting £9,000 bail.

According to a statement from the Citrus County Sheriff's Office in Florida, the head of Citrus High School learned of possible "inappropriate activity" between the teacher and a student at the school.

Detectives responded to a call from the school and interviewed three alleged victims.

Oral

The students claimed that Stanton, a short-term substitute teacher hired by the district, had sent several partially and fully nude photos of herself to them via Snapchat in the summer of 2018.

Stanton, who has two children, was also accused of performing oral sex on one of the students at his home last year, when he was 15 years old.

The alleged incidents pre-dated Stanton's hiring as a substitute teacher.

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Officers interviewed Stanton, who reportedly corroborated details given by the students.

"Stanton was a trusted community member involved in activities working with our county's youth," said Sheriff Mike Prendergast.

"She used her position to prey on the vulnerability of our children."

"No parent should ever have to worry about their child being victimised like this."

He added that Stanton was in the habit of texting and communicating with student athletes through social media.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

I'M a reasonably good-looking 28-year-old single bloke – I recently divorced my miserable wife – and I work in a factory with lots of women, many of whom are married.

I really fancy one of them, a 35-year-old attractive blonde with a fantastic figure, and she's always up for a laugh.

We spend a lot of time together, enjoying a bit of banter and often talking really dirty to each other, and I've reached the point where I'm gagging to give her one.

The other morning we were chatting at the vending machine and she told me she'd had a dream about me shagging her senseless in the store room.

But I'm scared of asking her for sex in case she was only joking and knocks me back – before telling all the other women.

What do you reckon?

GS, Lancs

Sam says...
SOUNDS to me like she'd be up for it, so go ahead and take the plunge.

Dear Sam,

I'M an 18-year-old girl at college. I'm blonde, 5ft 8in tall with a trim figure and big boobs and I've had loads of snogs with lads my age but they all seem so immature.

One of my lecturers is really hot and a few weeks ago I lost my virginity to him after he offered me private tuition.

He spent the evening at his flat carefully going through my revision notes but ended up leading me upstairs and making love to me in his bed.

I'm not complaining because he was such a caring lover but I don't think I should go round again.

I thought he genuinely wanted to help me, but my pal says the lecturer has a reputation for this sort of thing and only wanted to get in my knickers.

Who is right?

TB, Nottingham

Sam says...
I'LL give it to you straight, don't be so naive!

Tall man banged me long and hard on car park table

Dear Sam,

I RECENTLY started a new job and there is a tall, fit bloke works in the accounts office there.

Last week we had a party in a local pub as we all celebrated a huge new order that had come in.

So I went along with one of the girls I sit with. Me and my pal were soon very tipsy and decided to tease the tall man.

He was up for a bit of fun, so we got him outside in the car park, under the pretext of just having a smoke.

There was no-one else around so I was quickly on him, kissing him with tongues and undoing his silk shirt.

Then my pal unzipped his trousers and let his massive cock spring out. It was eight inches long and I knelt down and started licking and sucking it.

My friend then lifted her skirt and pulled her knickers aside so that he could finger her.

I sat on a wooden table and he shafted me roughly until I orgasmed.

I sucked him hard again so that he could bang my pal.

The problem is that the next day my mate told all the other girls at work what we'd done with the tall man.

Now I'm terrified we'll both get the sack. What do you think?

DK, Weymouth

Sam says...

THAT'S the risk you run by being too frisky at office parties. Just don't do it again!

MIDWEEK Sport CLASSIC

By SIMON DEAN

simon@sundaysport.co.uk

YORKSHIRE lass Adele Stephens was a firm Sunday Sport favourite in her Nineties heyday, and still has an army of male fans.

Adele set her sights on a glamour modelling career after leaving college and it didn't take long for snappas to spot her.

Her all-natural 34F boobs rocketed to fame almost by themselves!

This snap (right) was taken in 1996 when she had really hit the big time. The 5ft 7in blue-eyed blonde's perfect frame saw her modelling for swanky U.S. clothing label Ralph Lauren.

Curves

As well as being a firm Sport fave Adele, now 47, progressed to nude modelling and even did a number of boy-girl and girl-girl shoots.

Her gorgeous curves were also a hit in the US and she has been so successful she now splits her time between her hometown of Wakefield and homes in London and the States.

She said: "From what started out as appearances as a topless Page 3 girl, my career has gone from strength to strength."

#MY SEX FANTASY

'Men get turned on watching me pleasure myself'

I'VE got a serious fetish for baby oil – the feel of it on my skin is always guaranteed to get me horny.

It really makes me feel so sexy and I just love being covered in it.

I like it all over my breasts, bum, and my flat stomach and I love how it glistens.

I love the way it feels when

By JAYNE FERGUSON
news.sundaysport.co.uk

a guy uses it on me and the way his hands glide around.

It's very sensual to start off having a massage and, well, having a happy ending.

Rubbing

I do like it rough now and again but you can't beat taking your time, too.

I love applying the oil to myself – rubbing it into my boobs. I think men get really turned on watching a strong, confident woman giving herself pleasure.

And when you're shagging, it's very sexy when you're both covered in oil and your naked bodies are slipping and sliding against each other.

My ultimate fantasy is for me and two girls to just cover ourselves in oil and rub ourselves against each other for hours on end.

The feel of a soft breast sensually rubbing against mine and squashing together as they glide off each other gets me really wet just thinking about it.

Then, when we're delirious with all the sensual teasing we start to pleasure each other with our hands and mouths until we are just one big mound of writhing, orgasming bodies...

REDS CAN KOP KEY VICTORY

THERE are four Premier League games this evening including the visit of Leicester City to leaders Liverpool. Neither side was in action at the weekend and both were involved in seven-goal thrillers in their last league game – the Reds beat Palace 4-3 at Anfield while the Foxes went down by the same scoreline at Molineux.

Liverpool had only conceded three times in their last 15 home league games prior to the visit of the Eagles but, for the first time this season, they rode their luck against Roy Hodgson's side and they are now unbeaten in their last 32 home league games.

I expect Jürgen Klopp's side to maintain their lead at the top of the table. The Reds are 2/9 to keep the points – they have won their last seven at home in the league – with the Foxes 14s and the draw at 6/1.

The Foxes have lost their last couple but I feel they will score at Anfield, although the tip must be for a Liverpool win and both to score at 9/5 with BetVictor.

Heung-min-Son is back from Asian Cup duty for Spurs at home to Watford but they will have to do without a number of big players including Harry Kane and Dele Alli. The north London outfit have been knocked out of two cup competitions in the last week.

Watford have never done the double over Spurs but will fancy their chances at Wembley having easily disposed of Newcastle United at St James's Park in the Cup. The Hornets won the reverse fixture at Vicarage Road and are 19/4 with BetVictor to take maximum points with the hosts 13/20 and the draw at 3/1.

Score

The tip is for Javi Gracia's side on the double chance – to win or draw – which is priced at 5/4.

Bournemouth have lost their last five homes against Chelsea and I feel the Blues will extend that sequence at the Vitality Stadium against a Bournemouth side who they have already beaten twice this term – winning 1-0 on the south coast on their way to Wembley in the League Cup and 2-0 in the reverse PL fixture.

New Chelsea striker Gonzalo Higuain was branded a "mercenary" by Italian interior minister Matteo Salvini on Monday which came as a huge shock to me. I never thought a 31-year-old striker would join a club for the money in the twilight of his career. I presumed he wanted to be reunited with old Napoli boss Maurizio Sarri whilst telling us he had always wanted to play in the Premier League – the best league in the world guff.

Chelsea's Argentinian striker is 17/4 at BetVictor to score the opening goal and 6/5 to find the back of the Cherries net. Higuain looks sure to score goals between now and the end of the season as he tries to get an extended contract at the Bridge for the 2019/20 season and possibly beyond.

At his best Higuain was world class, but he only scored once in his last 12 games for Milan and is this not the same club who not too long ago stated they wouldn't spend vast sums on players aged over 30?

Chelsea to win and both teams to score is 85/40 at BetVictor and that is the call.

PSG's Gueye swoop off the Marco

TOFFEES STOPPER NOT FOR SALE BLASTS SILVA

MARCO SILVA HAS WARNED
PARIS ST GERMAIN NOT TO BOther WITH ANOTHER BID FOR IDRISSE GUEYE.

The French giants have slapped on a £21m bid as the transfer window draws to a close.

PSG were linked with the Senegal midfielder in the summer but have stepped up their interest.

Gueye has not always been in the Everton side this season but Silva is making it clear that he wants to keep him.

The Toffees boss said: "We rejected the offer. He is a really important player for us. We don't put players in the market. For some clubs to come here to buy our players they have to really pay the value of the player.

"For this price I cannot see the value.

"You know my opinion since the first day you started speaking about this possible offer.

"From a technical point of view, as a manager, he is a really important player for us and he is one player we don't think to lose in this market.

"Of course after some moments it is a matter of money and it is up to the club to decide but from my technical point of view he is a player who is really important for us."

Everton could change their mind if Thomas Meunier is thrown into the deal.

He is more of a defender but would soften the blow, especially with little time to bring in a replacement.

Silva is under pressure after a shocking run of form has hit Everton.

Heading into last night's clash with struggling Huddersfield, they had managed just two wins since losing the Merseyside derby in early December.

That run has dropped the Blues into the bottom half of the table and they were poor again when knocked out of the FA Cup by Millwall on Saturday.

That form has been criticised by club owner Farhad Moshiri but Silva insists he will turn things around.

He said: "In October, November, when we were playing well and doing what is our obligation as club, I told you many, many things we had to improve.

"I am not happy with the last month and a half, but I am not panicking.

Even if we are not happy, even if the fans are disappointed.

"I am also, but I am not panicking because we as a club cannot panic if we want to do the right things in the future."

EMERY GUNS FOR SUAREZ

ARSENAL boss Unai Emery is desperate to get Denis Suarez into the club before the transfer window closes tomorrow.

And there could be a surprise move for Inter Milan's Ivan Perisic — plus a defender coming in on loan.

After a quiet first three weeks of the window, Emery is now running around trying to get deals done. The Spaniard doesn't have any money to spend and is relying on loans to get new faces to the Emirates.

He said: "This transfer window is not easy and the message is the club is working on different players and the possibility if it can be is good for us."

"We are looking at two different players and the possibility they can come."

"If they aren't coming to help us like we want, I prefer they don't come."

Emery didn't want to bring in a defender this month but injuries are forcing his hand.

Sokratis and Laurent Koscielny both picked up knocks against Manchester United in the FA Cup.

The former could be out for three weeks while Koscielny is much closer to full fitness and should be available for Sunday's clash with Manchester City.

Emery is trying to play the issue down but clearly the Gunners squad is stretched.

He added: "We have enough players, centre-backs in the squad. Only we're having a lot of injuries and a lot in this position."

"If we can bring another player and when all the players want to play, we can have a lot of trouble in the future."

Perisic is new name being linked with Arsenal. He was a summer target of Jose Mourinho at Manchester United but he ended up staying at Inter.

It's clear he fits the bill as Emery likes players who can fit in anywhere on the front line.

He said: "The club is working with the possibility with different players.

Message

"I do not know the players, I cannot say exactly the players but they are players with the possibility to help us, who can play as winger, right or left. I think all the players that can come and help us are good."

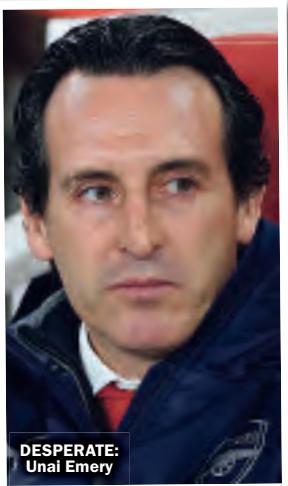

"This transfer is not easy. The message is the club is working for different players. The possibility if it can be is good for us."

"We can only bring in players that we are very convinced they will help us with a good performance."

Emery is adamant that it won't be the end of the world if no new faces arrive this week.

He said: "I trust in every player, I trust in our squad. Our focus is very clear, it's the Premier League. It is the first focus and we are also going to play the Europa League with a big motivation because it is one title and one way to the Champions League."

"Our challenge every day, every match is to take more balance in attack and defensive moments."

SOLSKJAER PLANS AHEAD

OLE Gunnar Solskjaer is drawing up a list of summer signing targets for Man United.

The Norwegian has made a flying start to life in the Old Trafford hotseat and brought the feelgood factor back to the club.

There's a real chance he will steer the Reds to the top four despite their woes when Jose Mourinho was in charge.

Now United bosses are growing more and more certain that Solskjaer will be getting the job for keeps. Reports in Norway suggest that contact has been made with Molde, who have "loaned" him to United until the end of the Premier League season.

By ANDY MILLOM

He is massive favourite with the bookies for the job at 1/2.

The Norwegian season starts at the end of March and Solskjaer has just signed a new three-year deal with them.

Of course they would not stand in his way should United want a permanent deal and the lower wages over there means the compo payment would be a couple of million rather than the huge fee Tottenham would want for Mauricio Pochettino.

Solskjaer is not talking about his own position but is clearly trying to bring players through for next season.

He said: "We have quite a few talents in that youth team that you'd like to see, and you probably will see at some point before next season."

"Because that's what it is about now, for me as well, to put the club and to put the team in a good position when at the end of the season, how do we look like, what do we look like next season?

"It's just about the right time.

"We've got players now such as Alexis Sanchez, Romelu Lukaku and Juan Mata who haven't played so much lately.

"They're three players you've got to jump ahead of as well and they are quality. And we're here to get results as well."

"It'll be good to get the window closed so we can just focus on matters, the squad and improving the ones who stay here."

UNHAPPY: Benitez

Frustrated
Benitez
Fox off to Leicester

RAFA Benitez believes he WON'T get the signings he needs before the transfer window closes this month.

And his frustration is making the Spaniard a prime target to take over at Leicester City.

The Foxes look set to part company with boss Claude Puel despite sitting nicely in midtable.

His brand of football — which is not that different to Benitez — is boring the home fans to death.

He is widely expected to be fired before the end of the season and insiders say Benitez is top of the list to take over.

The Spaniard's fury has been rising all month as it again looks like there will be no new signings.

Benitez's move for Lazio left-back Jordan Lukaku fell down because of fitness fears, while Paraguay International Miguel Almiron is also hitting the buffers.

Leicester do have money to spend and would all new players to come in next summer.

Benitez can walk away from St James's Park at the end of the season without another club having to pay compensation.

Deals

He is refusing to speak about the club's transfer dealings.

When pressed he would only say: "I will not talk about transfers. I don't know because I don't do the deals."

Newcastle came into the midweek round of games sat just one place and two points above the relegation zone.

Benitez has made it clear that he worries for the club's survival in the Premier League without making new signings.

He thinks it could come down to small margins.

Benitez added: "Each manager is managing the team he has, depending on the characteristics of his players.

"If you have top players you attack. But we need balance. One point could make all the difference and goal difference is important for us as you have seen."

"It's clear with the money that everyone is spending in the Premier League, some teams will be really strong."

"The top six will be the top six because they are stronger than the others and they have more money to spend. But we can compete against them if we do everything right."
